FASP DFTB Group Software Licence

1. On behalf of the FASP DFTB Group Developers Community, prof. Dr. Maicon Pierre Lourenço (Universidade Federal do Espírito Santo) and prof. Dr. Hélio Anderson Duarte (Universidade Federal de Minas Gerais), grants to the Licensee a non-exclusive license to use the FASP Software for internal academic purposes, upon the terms and conditions below.

2. A member of the FASP DFTB Group will provide access to the Software known as FASP to the Licensee, who may install it on a local network controlled by the Licensee's responsible official and for the use of the licensee's immediate research group. The software may be used beyond a local network or on a supercomputing centre only if indicated by the Licensee in this document. The Licensee may not sublicense the use of the Software, or make it available to third parties, without the prior written consent of Dr. Maicon.

3. The Licensee accepts the Software "as is." Except as expressly stated herein, the FASP group disclaims any warranties, expressed or implied, or statutory, of any kind or nature with respect to the Software, including without limitation any warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose. The FASP group shall not be liable in any event for any damages, whether direct or indirect, consequential or incidental, arising from the use of the Software.

4. The Licensee may not create computer programs that incorporate or modify the Software or resemble its structure, sequence or organization, unless noticed Dr. Maicon.

5. The Licensee agrees, in perpetuity, not to disclose the Software to any third party and to use it only for the purposes of this Agreement, unless Dr. Maicon gives prior written consent. In protecting the Software, the Licensee must use at least the same degree of care it uses to protect its own computer programs and other confidential information. In the particular case of a central compute facility the Licensee must ensure that facility users have only access to a binary excecutable.

6. All publications arising from the use of the Software or modified Software shall give appropriate acknowledgement to the FASP Group developers contribution to the Software in accordance with normal practices followed in scientific research publications. The FASP citation is: Lourenço, M. P; da Silva, M. C; Oliveira, A. F; Quintão, M. C; Duarte, H. A.; FASP: a framework for automation of Slater–Koster file parameterization. Theoretical Chemistry Accounts, 135, 11 (2016).

7. This license may be terminated upon twenty days notice for any breach of this Agreement, provided that that breach has not been corrected to the satisfaction of Dr. Maicon prior to the expiry of such notice.
